

PICNet Lunch and Learn
Throwback Thursdays: COVID-19 Lessons Learned
Expression of Interest Form for Presenters

The purpose of these Zoom sessions is to provide PICNet’s Community of Practice an opportunity to:

- Reflect on COVID-19 experiences in health care and affiliated community settings
- Identify key lessons for current and future pandemic planning

We are seeking presenters to share their COVID-19 experiences and expertise from a variety of healthcare settings as it relates to Infection Prevention and Control (IPAC). The intention of this opportunity is to provide a venue for IPAC and other health care professionals to learn from one another and hear about the experiences of others. The pandemic has created and strengthened many interdisciplinary partnerships with IPAC. We strongly encourage IPAC professionals to co-present with your partners in environmental services, clinical education, and facilities maintenance & operations, just to name a few!

If you are interested in presenting, please fill out the following sections:

PICNet Lunch and Learn

Instructions for the PowerPoint Presentation (checklist):

Content

- Include an acknowledgement slide identifying any relevant stakeholders and contributors
- Include an affiliation slide (e.g., University of British Columbia)
- Include a conflict of interest slide (i.e., presenters must disclose any conflict of interests or if there are none, clearly indicate this on the slide)
- Answer the following key questions:
 - Situation – Describe the situation
 - Background – Provide a background of the practice setting
 - Assessment & Action – Describe your experiences during COVID-19. Here are some guiding questions:
 - What were the challenges you encountered and how did you overcome them?
 - What successes did you achieve?
 - What partnerships developed as a result? How was the partnership beneficial and how did you leverage the connection made in order to create positive outcomes?
 - Recommendation - If you were to face a similar challenge in the future, what top 3-5 lessons would you share with your future self, based on what you have learned from COVID-19?
